FRIDAY, JULY 12, 1889.

We can now assure the people of Prince Albert that the Regina and Long Lake Railway is a settled fact. It will not be built into Prince Albert this year, but it will be graded up to Saskatoon, and there is a strong probability that grading will be done between that point and this. The only difficulty in the way of laying rails is that ties cannot be procured. It is almost certain that ties for sixty miles of the road will be taken out here the coming winter.

At this particular time when there is so much depression in business and such a scarcity of money in the place, we cannot commend the evident desire of the Board of Works to raise a larger sum of money than usual for improvements, by taxation. We think it would be a wise policy not to expend anything, except what is absolutely necessary, and we do not consider some of the proposed expenditures of the Board of Works necessary. We may be much better able to pay a higher rate of taxes next year than this. Let us wait.

The news of the death of the Hon. John Norquay, ex-premier of Manitoba, was received here last week and cast a gloom over the entire community. Mr. Norquay was well known to many in Prince Albert, personally, and his career as a statesman was familiar to all. Not only will his untimely end be an irreparable loss to his own party, but to Manitoba, his native Province. Like other great statesmen, he had his shortcomings, but his every energy was directed towards the prosperity of his native land and his fellow countrymen, and even his political opponents will admit that he did much towards making Manitoba what she is to-day. We extend our sympathy to his bereaved wife and family.

Mr. Macdowall, M.P. for Saskatchewan, arrived in town last evening, accompanied by Mr. F. H. Mathewson, Manager of the Bank of Ottawa, Winnipeg. In an interview with Mr. Macdowall this forenoon regarding railway matters, he stated that all arrangements had been completed to ensure the construction of the Regina and Long Lake road to Prince Albert. The contract had not been actually let when he left, but he expected in ten days to give us very much more favorable intelligence. Mr. Mathewson, who was also interviewed, expressed himself as being most favorably impressed with the beauties of Saskatchewan scenery and the general appearance of the country. He did not expect to see so thriving a town or settlement, and said that he would give a good account of it on his return home. We want more men like Mr. Mathewson to visit this District, because the only report they can give of it will be to our advantage. As to Mr. Macdowall, we can only reiterate what we have so often expressed in the past, that he has proved himself a worthy representative of this District, and is entitled to all the honors for any benefits it receives at the hands of the Government. Let the cranks in our midst assail him as they may, he still has the sympathy and support of the vast majority of our population. All honor to Mr. Macdowall, who through such a combination of adverse circumstances achieved such great results for the District that he so ably represents in Parliament.

On Thursday evening of last week Miss Fortescue, daughter of Chief Factor Fortescue, of the H. B. Co., at Isle la Crosse, was married in St. Alban's Church to Mr. Angus McKay, of Fort Pitt. The ceremony was performed by the Ven. Archdeacon G. O. McKay, brother of the groom. The bridesmaids were Miss Scott and the Misses Nellie and Gerty Fortescue. Mr. Jas. McKay, brother of the groom, was the best man. The church was filled with relatives and friends of the bride and groom. After the ceremony was performed the bridal party drove to the residence of Chief Factor Clarke where a sumptuous wedding feast was awaiting them. The presents to the bride were very valuable and numerous, showing the great esteem in which the young lady was held by her many friends in Prince Albert. A very enjoyable time was afterwards spent in dancing, etc., to an early hour in the morning.

Lieut.-Governor Royal.

AMONGST THE SETTLERS

Visit to St. Catherine, Lindsay and Duck Lake.

On Friday the gubernatorial party, accompanied by the mayor and Reception Committee, were driven into the country and called at the residence of Mr. Plaxton, M.L.A., where a large gathering of the settlers of that district had assembled to meet the Governor, and luncheon was partaken of. After His Honor had had a chat with the farmers of Colleton, the party proceeded to Red Deer Hill where he was well received, and the following address presented.

To the Hon. Joseph Royal, Lieut.-Governor of the N.W.T.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOR,—

We, the residents of Red Deer Hill and adjacent settlement, on this first visit of Your Honor to our District of Saskatchewan, and electoral District of Kinsistow, desire to extend to you our most hearty welcome. We trust the impression that you receive of our adopted country and neighborhood, will not be less favorable of its capabilities than what we farmers have of its merits. We all have left eastern homes in hopes of establishing new ones for ourselves and our growing up families. In the country, as a farming one, we have great faith, and with the prospect of railway communication with the outer world, a new impulse takes possession of each of us, to strive to prepare the way for the great influx of immigration which shall be sure to follow; to whom we shall always be ready to extend the right hand of good fellowship, and jointly help to build up this vast territory and great Dominion of which we are justly proud.

It is acknowledged that the farther north grain can be grown, the better its quantities, so with the rising generation of farmers; we trust that they, as well as the products of the soil, shall command the admiration of our eastern brethren, and be the pride of our Dominion. We also welcome Your Honor most heartily as the able representative of Her Gracious Majesty, Queen Victoria; we are satisfied that the trust imposed on you, to administer the government of this vast Northwest Territories, could not have been placed in better hands, so as to please all classes, than in yours. We trust facilities enjoyed by our eastern sister provinces shall soon be ours, and with your kind solicitude for the welfare of the farmer, as well as for others of Her Majesty's loyal subjects, shall stimulate all to greater energy and life to utilize the vast capabilities of our farming and pastoral District of Kinsistow. We have advantages which the prairie sections may not have so abundantly, we also have, as you see from this fine soil, the great North Saskatchewan river on one hand, with its big sister, the South Saskatchewan, on the other, which shall yet help in expanding our commercial advantages in the near future.

It is stated as a fact, that within a mile of where we now are, the last buffaloes were chased in this district. Your Honor may now see herds of fine beefs, and bands of horses taking their place; the sulkey and gang plow also opening the pregnant furrows, which grow the highest samples of red fife wheat and other grains. We trust that having seen one fine country of Saskatchewan, Your Honor will carry home with you impressions which shall not soon be irradiated but will prompt you ever to extend to the District of Kinsistow that fair share of paternal care which it may justly deserve.

Signed, on behalf of the residents of Red Deer Hill and adjoining settlement.

ANDREW SPENCE,
ROBERT GILES,
ALEX. STANSFIELD,
CHAS. ADAMS, Sec.

His Honor replied to the address briefly, thanking the settlers for their kindness and expressing his pleasure with the appearance of the country. After spending some time in conversation with the farmers the party returned to Prince Albert, arriving home at 6 o'clock.

The Governor and Supt. and Madame Gagnon dined with Supt. Perry at seven o'clock and at 8:30 visited the Nisbet Academy at the invitation of the officers of the Saskatchewan Institute. A large number of the members of the Institute were present besides about 100 ladies and gentlemen, who had been invited to meet His Honor. The Governor was presented with an address by the Institute, which was read by the president, Supt. Perry, and was as follows:—

To the Hon. Joseph Royal, Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest Territories.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOR,—

The office bearers and members of the Saskatchewan Institute have much pleasure in extending to you a cordial welcome to this northern town. Along with the other citizens of Prince Albert, they rejoice in receiving amongst them a representative of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria. And upon this your Honor's first visit to the Saskatchewan, they feel special pleasure in bringing to your notice the existence and objects of a society which they regard as of no small importance. Upon the occasion of receiving your Honor for the first time in the rooms of the Saskatchewan Institute, it may not be out of place that we should give such an account of the origin and aims of this society as, we trust, will enlist your sympathy and secure your interest. In this great District of Saskatchewan and the territory to the north-west there are many interesting and important subjects of investigation. We have not far away Indian tribes whose customs, traditions and religious ideas it would be well to investigate and to preserve the result of our investigation; and amongst our corresponding members there are able and experienced missionaries and officials of the Hudson's Bay Company upon whom we can count for giving us whatever assistance is in their power in this interesting field of research. The mineral resources of our District are but very imperfectly explored, and will richly repay any investigation which we may be able to prosecute. Many of the animals and birds which formerly abounded in this vicinity are becoming scarce before the advancing tide of civilization, and it is in the interests of science that specimens of them should be preserved in our museum before they have finally disappeared. The indigenous plant life of our prairies is destined to rapid change as the wild lands of our district become settled by the industrious farmers who are coming, and the botanist of future generations will be placed under great obligations to us if we succeed in placing in our herbarium preserved specimens of the vegetable wealth now abundant. In the interest of agriculture itself it is of consequence that we should ascertain not merely what kinds of plants grow here, but what kinds may be successfully cultivated. There are living amongst us many of the old settlers of our country who retain a recollection of interesting events in the history of this portion of our Dominion, and we may be able to collect and preserve historical reminiscences from this source of great value to the future historian. These are, in brief outline, the main objects which we have in view in carrying on the operations of our Institute. And we think your Honor will fully admit that in the interests of science, as well as of the material advancement of our country, we could not very well place before you more important aims. It is also a matter of gratification to us that as soon after our organization as an Institute we should be honored by a visit from the Lieut.-Governor of the Territories. It may be of interest for your Honor to know that we have already attained a measure of success which we could scarcely have anticipated. We have upon our roll a very considerable number of local members, some of whom have contributed papers during the past winter of interest and value. We have received, as corresponding members, gentlemen residing at a distance who are distinguished in different fields of scientific research, and who have expressed the warm interest they feel in our enterprise, and their desire to assist us. Older sister societies of distinction throughout Canada and the neighboring Republic, have given us a hearty welcome as collaborators in these departments of investigation upon which we have hopefully entered. And now, in presenting our address of welcome to your Honor, upon your first visit to the District of Saskatchewan, we hope to be assured of your Honor's sympathy with our operations and aim. We desire, finally, to express our appreciation of the honor which you have done us in paying us your present visit, and we trust that you will accept the position which we now offer to you of being the first honorary member who we are privileged to place upon our roll.

A. BOWEN PERRY,
President.

The Governor made a short speech in reply and in the course of his remarks expressed the very great pleasure it afforded him to find so flourishing a society in Prince Albert. He had always taken a deep interest in the work of such institutions and wished the Saskatchewan Institute every success. He had no doubt of its success and felt sure it would be of immense benefit to the district and to the whole country. He thanked the members for the honor they had done him in electing him the first honorary member, and for their kindness in giving him such a pleasant evening. The Hon. Mr. Clarke being called upon made a very neat speech at the conclusion of which His Honor and many of those present visited the museum. An inspection of the different natural history and other collections showed very much to the credit of the Institute and that although a very short time in existence the members had not been idle. After the guests returned to the reception room a short musical programme was rendered and songs by Insp. Norman and Mr. J. L. Johnson were very much appreciated. A musical charade in which Mrs. Sprout and Misses Hill and Pritchard and Messrs. Johnson and Douglas took part, was one of the most enjoyable features of the evening and the distinguished visitor expressed himself as being delighted therewith. Refreshments, provided by the Institute, were served up at the close of the programme and the singing of the national anthem brought a most pleasant evening to a close.

At 10 a.m. Saturday His Honor had a visit from a band of Crees. Their chief made a somewhat lengthy harangue, (CONTINUED ON FOURTH PAGE.)
